

Kathy Nordmeyer, a pianist, is a graduate of Clarke University and Texas A&M where she studied with John Harris. She is now a student of Keiko Alexander. For many years she taught music and directed choirs at the high school level.

Ms. Nordmeyer also has a graduate business degree and deep experience in the corporate world with proven ability in strategic planning, program and project management, marketing, budgeting and financial reporting and analysis. She is currently the Director of Project Management at Heartland School Solutions, a division of Global Payments